HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

TWENTY-FIVE MEN KILLED
ON A NEW BRIDGE.

CAUSED BY COLLAPSE OF A SPAN.

Over a Score of Others Seriously Injured
—The Structure Was Intended to Connect Louisville With Jeffersonville, Ind., and the Finishing Touches Were Being Put on When the Span Fell.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 16.—At 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning a whole span of the new Jeffersonville bridge, now under construction by the Phoenixville Bridge company of Phoenixville, Pa., fell with fifty workmen all of whom were precipitated into the river. At least twenty-five were killed. The bridge timbers and false work, iron and mangled humanity are lying in a heap in the river. Several thousand people lined the shore of either side of the river and boats near the spot of the disaster were crowded, while heroic efforts were at once made at rescue.

This accident was due to the insecure placing of the "traveler" last night. The wind still further loosened it and this morning the order was given to draw it back into its place and the engines were started. The wind was high and the swaying of the false work forced the "traveler" from the piles on which it was placed. When the end slipped off the men realized their danger. The engines called to the men and ten of the fifty on the span escaped. Forty fell 119 feet into the water.

The span which fell would have been finished this afternoon. After the "traveler" had been fastened to the piers, there would have been no danger from the wind.

HOW THE DISASTER OCCURRED.

Superintendent Eide of Manchester had a very narrow escape from death. He said: "I was standing on the span that fell near the Kentucky side and seeing that the span was about to fall, I called to the men to get off as soon as possible. I had just counted the men who were on the span a few minutes before and there were fifty-one in all, not counting myself. When I called the men dropped their tools and ran toward me, but only ten could get off. The others went down in a heap. I was so badly frightened that I could not tell how many of them got out. I only saw one man swim to the shore. The accident was mainly caused by the wind. There was a high gale blowing from the southwest all morning and I realized that at any time the span might blow down. Then, too, the piling under the span by which it was supported was weak, the current is very swift and a large amount of driftwood jammed against the supports. If the wind had not blown so high, however, the piling were sufficiently strong to have done the work. The bridge fell like a pack of cards. It became loosened on the Indiana side first and swayed away gradually across to the Kentucky side. There were many narrow escapes by workmen. John Leghey in falling from the "traveler" caught on a rope and lowered himself into the water. Mike Lynn of St. Louis, was saved in a similar manner. Harry Maxwell of St. Louis, finding himself falling, grasped the edge of the pier and drew himself to the top.

The total loss of life will not be ascertained until the soil is cool and the missing located. Some of the men were carried in shifts to Jeffersonville and others to this side. The bodies that lie buried in the river are weighted down by tons of iron and wreckage.

SILVER CHIEFS IN COUNCIL.

Leaders of the Free Coinage Movement at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The conference of leading silver men of the country to devise ways and means to continue the fight for free silver coinage opened today at the headquarters of the bimetallic league. Most of the familiar faces of the silver leaders were there, including General Weaver and General Field, Senator Stewart of Nevada, Captain Keith, the Alabama leader, Mortimer Whitehead, lecturer of the national orange-mortar movement, the British authority on bi-metallicism, Colonel Beverly of Virginia, and Judge Sheldon of Connecticut. Mail for Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor has been received so that he is expected to be in all, the conference number about fifty, representing the bone and sinew of the free silver movement.

The conference is proceeding behind closed doors. General Weaver, president of the bimetallic league, said that the meeting would probably last for several days, as it was intended to fully canvass the sentiment of the bi-metallicists and reach some conclusion among them as to the course to be pursued.

WILL FIGHT UTAH'S ADMISSION

The Ladies' Home Missionary Society declares that Polygamy is Not Dead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The bill for the admission of Utah will probably be opposed by the Ladies' Home Missionary Society which is seeking an opportunity to be heard by the senate committee on territories. The members of this society take exception to the statement made very freely by the advocates of the bill that polygamy is dead in Utah and say that on the contrary they have positive information that the contrary is the case. Missionaries scattered through that territory declare that the practice is not carried on as openly as formerly, but that in the places remote from the towns there is little or no abatement of the custom and in the towns and cities there is a covert observation of the old doctrine, while everywhere among the Mormon people the feeling in favor of polygamy is just as strong as in the palmiest days of the Mormon faith.

Will also sell at same rate and limit to the following California points: Colton, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, San Diego and San Jose. L. R. DELANEY, Agent.

Castells Must Go to the Pen.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 16.—It comes to light now that Martin Castells will have to go to the Northern prison and remain there until the case is decided by the supreme court, which will take at least three months. There is no chance for his keeping his freedom by giving bonds under the Indiana laws. The balance of the cases all rest until the supreme court's decision.

STEVENS' STATEMENT.

The Ex-Minister to Hawaii Talks About the Blaine Dispatch.

Boston, Dec. 16.—Ex-Minister to Hawaii John L. Stevens has made the following explanatory statement: "Regarding the dispatch to Secretary Blaine signed by me and published yesterday, I think it is proper to say no answer was ever received by me and probably none was ever written. Doubtless Mr. Blaine thought the standing instructions and usages of the legation of which I then had charge, especially Secretary Bayard's dispatch to Minister Merrill of July 12, 1887, were sufficient for my guidance, thus throwing on the American representatives at Honolulu the responsibility of dealing with facts and emergencies, as to which they could judge more accurately than the Washington officials. All official dispatches received by me during my residence in Honolulu are duly numbered and on file at the Honolulu legation."

JOHN L. STEVENS.

Hawaiian Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—There was published yesterday a dispatch addressed by Minister Stevens from Honolulu to Secretary Blaine, dated March, 1893, in which Mr. Stevens asks for instructions in the event of a revolutionary movement. This dispatch is printed in the official Hawaiian correspondence and is not now. Dispatches of that time referred to an entirely different revolution from the one which has been effected. The revolution Mr. Stevens apprehended at that time was threatened by Robert Wilcox, a half-breed, who attempted to overthrow Kalaheua in 1889, and was prevented by the white elements of the islands.

Paying Off Missouri's Debt.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 16.—State Auditor J. M. Seibert has drawn his warrant on the treasury in the sum of $133,070 to pay the semi-annual interest of the State debt due January 1, 1894. The auditor also drew his warrant for $211,000 to take up outstanding bonds of that amount called for redemption December 30, 1893. This lot of bonds, together with what has already been paid, will equal the constitutional requirement of $250,000 of the State debt paid this year.

Made His Showings Good.
